

BOOKSTORE

Western National Parks Association (WNPA) operates the bookstore at Tumacácori as well as other parks and monuments throughout the Southwest. It's unique in that everything sold must have some educational value be it books, postcards or activities. Proceeds benefit the Park.

For many of the young people, money burns holes in their pockets and they are compelled to spend it. Its amazing what they might buy. Fortunately, there are a lot of appropriate options for kids from 25 cents on up. Here are a few inexpensive suggestions:

postcards = 25 cents

magnets = $2.00

stencils or nature guide books = $1.50
